My dear Dewan

In reference to the temporary cession of Criminal Jurisdiction over the areas of the Periyar Camps I have to inform you that it is not considered advisable to execute a formal "convention", a memo of agreement or a letter embodying the terms of the Agreement will suffice, and be more in accordance with the general practice of the Government of India. If you will send me a letter to the effect of the enclosed draft, I shall be prepared on my part on behalf of the Government to accept the same and undertake that the British Government shall make over to the Travancore State persons escaping from the custody of the State and found within the areas alluded to in your letter, and also make over without the formality of an application for extradition, persons found within the said areas who are accused of committing criminal offences within the limits of the State, but outside the aforesaid areas. An agreement of this somewhat informal nature is sufficient for all practical purposes, and it is clear that Travancore's rights are duly protected. On receipt of your letter my Government will take steps to extend their jurisdiction and you can take such steps as you may consider necessary to curtail the Criminal jurisdiction of your officers over the said areas.

I trust His Highness may at once consent to this proposal and that I may (at an early date) be favored with a letter from you as indicated.

The procrastination of the measure is causing much inconvenience.

Yours sincerely

(Sgd) J. C. Hannyngton.

Proposed Draft.

The cession of jurisdiction shall extend only to jurisdiction in regard to matters dealt with in the Indian Penal and Procedure Codes and the Police Codes of the British India Legislature.

In all other respects the existing laws and regulations of the Travancore State shall remain in force and the Jurisdiction of the Travancore Authorities shall continue.
